

The Backyard Club of LCC invites you to attend...

Owls of Central PA: Are They In YOUR Backyard?

When: Wednesday, October 17, 2018, 7:00 - 8:00 pm

-  Discover the different owls of Central PA and how to know if they live in your backyard.
-  Learn how to attract owls to your property and how to keep them safe.
-  Learn about “bird banding” to help identify individual birds and track their movements.
-  Hear about the 20+ year project, conducted by the Ned Smith Nature and Art Center, about Pennsylvania’s smallest owl, the Northern Saw-whet Owl.

Where: Lebanon Country Club - Terrace Dining Rm.

Speaker Bio

Sandy Lockerman is a field ornithologist and licensed bird bander. She is recently retired as an environmental educator with Dauphin County Parks & Recreation at Wildwood Park in Harrisburg. She and her husband, Gary, are involved in a variety of bird surveys and projects in central PA. They are active volunteers for the Ned Smith Nature & Art Center in Millersburg, PA, and at Hawk Mountain Sanctuary in Berks County.

RSVP to Sue: backyardclublcc@gmail.com or 717-679-3003

